

Add people on the balcony

Change the sky to have more blue, especially where it touches the building. It will help to make it "pop".

Maybe have interior lights on?

Please slope the William Moffett road to look more in line with the actual scenario on site and add age to the finish with some road markings.

Raise the viewport by 1-2m to help make the visual obstructions less focussed.

Consider a more streaky sky with more blue touching the building to help it "pop".

The bottom sign to be broken into three sections - accommodating the current setup and one future addition.

Lift the planter lights to be higher.

MOFFETT OFFICE PARK

Add strip downlight to top of timber screen behind the reception counter.

Populate with people. Some static when in conversation and ones walking in a blur.

Love this image!

Populate with people and less flooded sky.

Shift the reception desk over so that it falls between tile borders.

Please select slightly smaller chairs so that this visual gap is greater.

Not sure about the artwork, although it does noit bother me.

Image brilliance to be adjusted so that walls are more defined without white-washing the sky

Play with shadows to try and get some direct sunlight on walls and floor.

Make image wider toward the exterior to try capture the free transformation between exterior and interior.

Populate with both static and blurred people.

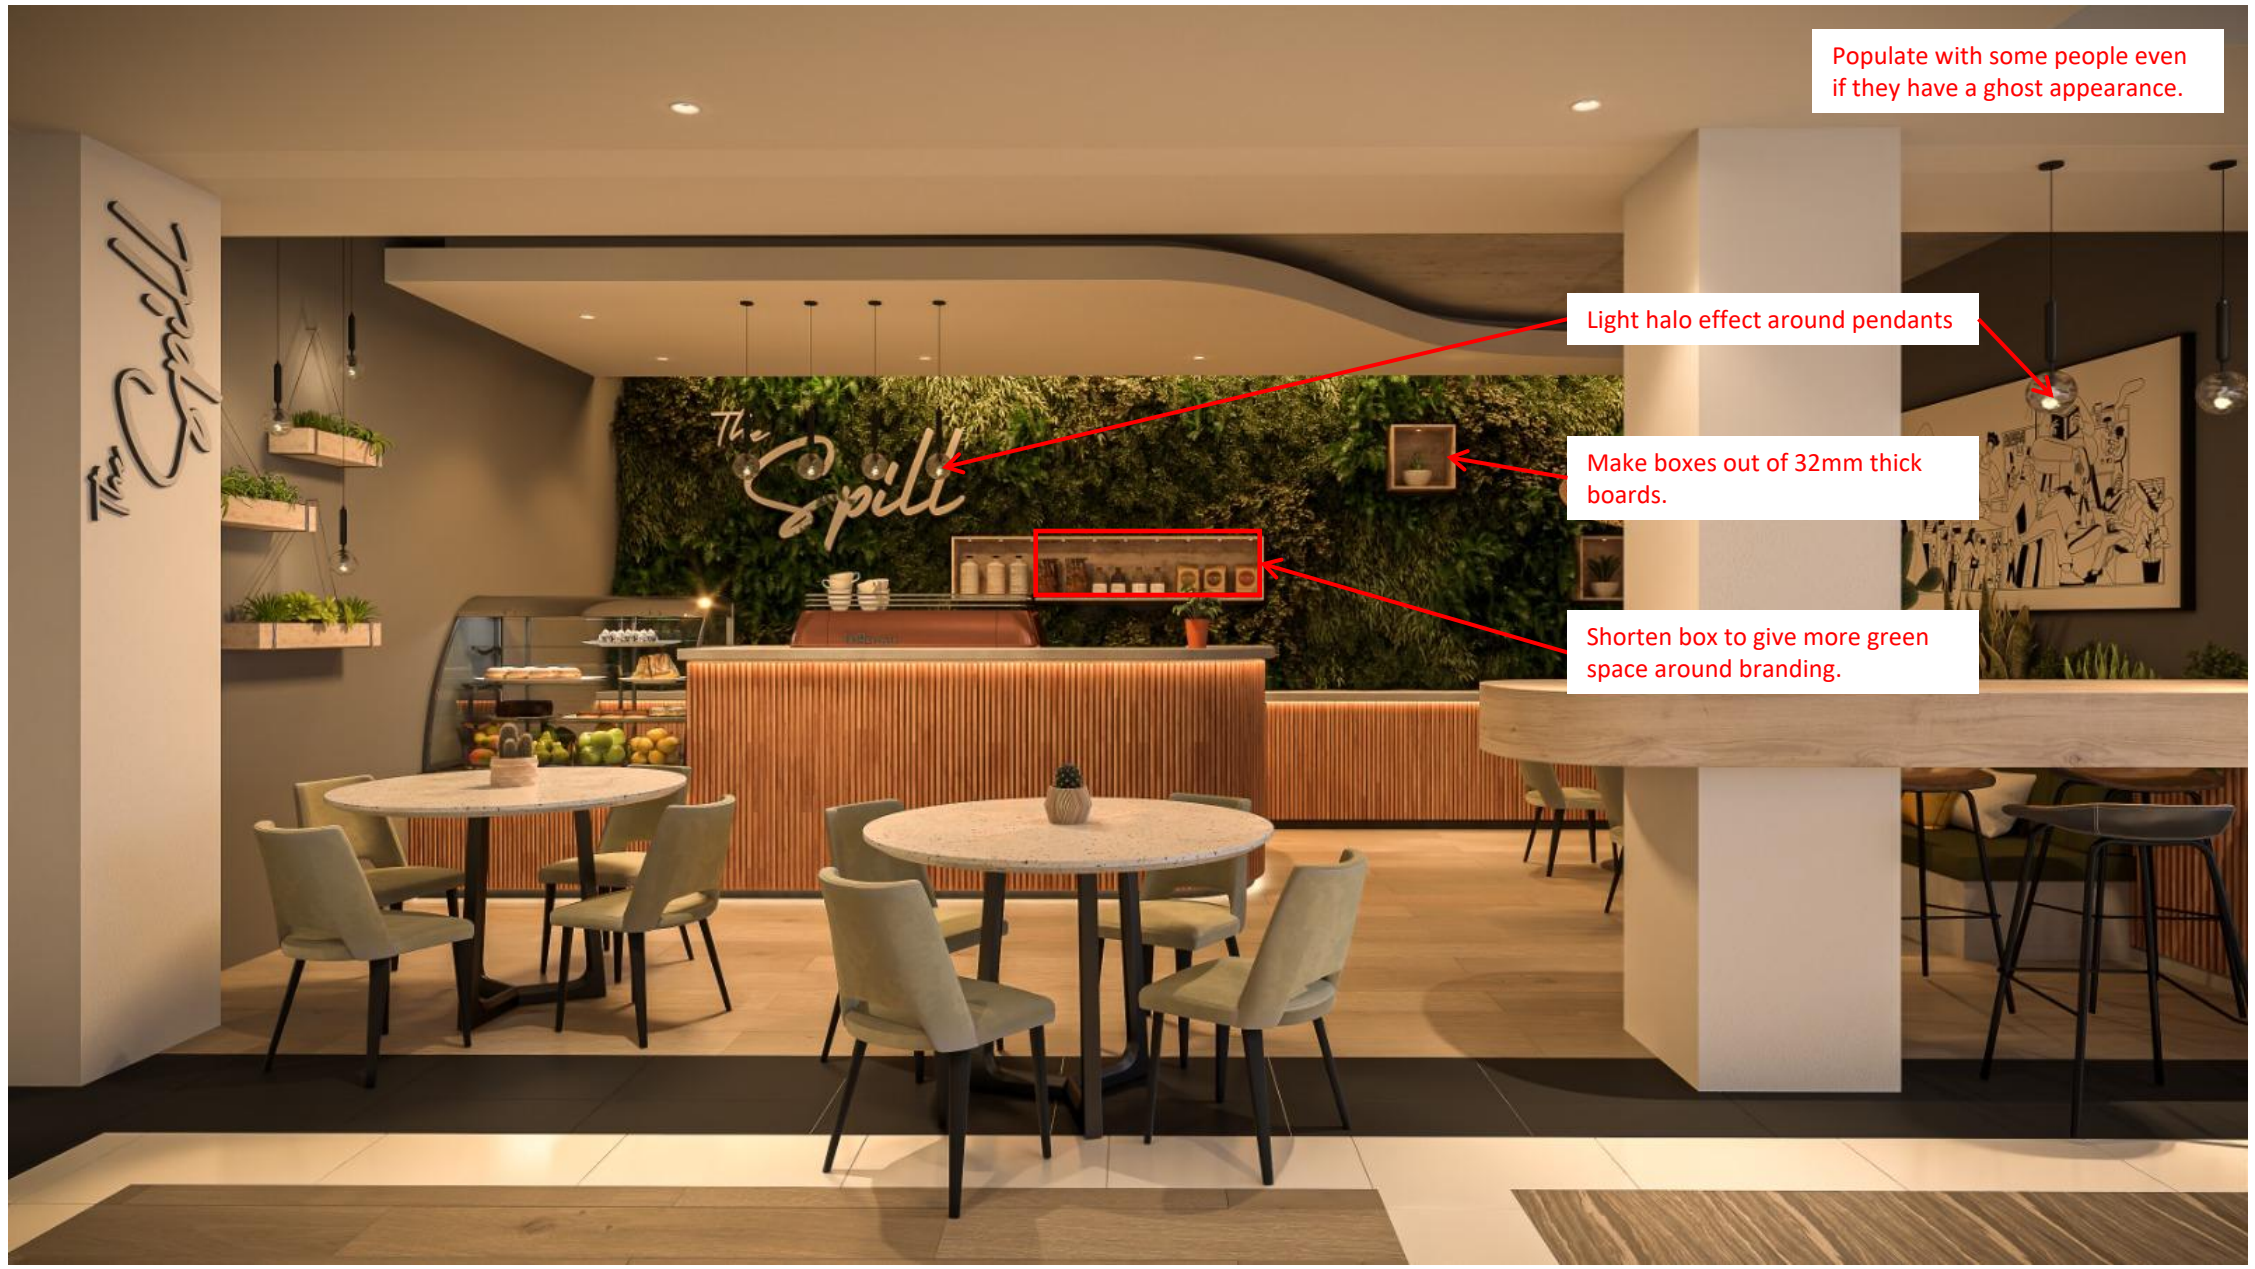

Bigger plant

Populate with people

Slightly higher plants and more dense.

Slightly narrower chairs and shift across so that they open the gap towards the reception counter ever so slightly.

Populate with some people even if they have a ghost appearance.

Light halo effect around pendants

Make boxes out of 32mm thick boards.

Shorten box to give more green space around branding.

Try to see if you can get the light to project the basket weaving pattern on the wall and table.

Brighten tenanted office
next to passage to make it more bright.

Populate with some people

Bring carpet tile border out into passage.

Slightly lower plants - People / furniture little more visible.

Plant wall similar to The Spill.

Populate with some people

Not crazy about the hanging plants from the first floor planters.

Like the idea but not the type of plant.

Love the general feel. Well done!

Add some of the same type of plants used at the main entrance for around the courtyard edges.

Ditto comments from previous image.

The tree looks a bit distressed - Give it some water...;-)

The tree is just not cutting it.
Maybe lighter leafs??

Ditto on all previous comments.

Brilliance in mage needs to be bumped without white washing the sky.
