Terms

1. You agree that Quotes and Invoices are not valid without these terms of sale, and that you have read and understood these terms in full.
 2. Our online stores do not accept credit cards. If a credit card facility is provided, it will be provided by a secure and established third party payment gateway that guarantees your online security.
 3. All information and prices on the site, and on the price guides, should be treated as an invitation for you to make an offer to purchase and we remain entitled to reject any offer to purchase without giving reasons.
 4. A quote is required in order to make payment and to complete a purchase. Incorrect or incomplete payments may be refunded back to a South African bank account, or may be used as credit towards a new purchase.
 5. We resell products and/or services on behalf of our suppliers. The warranty is fully covered by the official local suppliers.
 6. Suitability of goods: Since the use of the product is outside our control, we do not warrant the suitability of goods. Kindly check the suitability of products before making a purchase. The user agrees that by purchasing a DSP license (of any software), that the user is (a) a system builder and (b) that the software will be used for new computers. The user agrees to return such (unused) software immediately if a license is incorrect for a refund or replacement of the correct license.
 7. Payment: All payments are in advance, by bank transfer or by cash.
 8. Cheques: Due to cheque fraud, we regrettably do not accept cheques. We do understand that several companies have strict payment policies. If payment has been made by cheque, there is a 10 day clearing period and no goods will be released until the cheque has cleared in our account. Please note that prices may change during this time.
 9. Credit card payments: We do not have credit card facilities. However, you may still pay with your credit card through your bank, online banking or ATM by doing a "credit card transfer" from your linked account.
 10. Collections and cash on delivery (COD): Regrettably we are not able to do COD as courier companies do not accept cash on our behalf.
 11. Warranties: All warranties are fully covered by the official South African supplier. The warranty may not always be the same as the international manufacturers' warranty and may differ. Software and consumables, such as ink, paper and media, are not covered by a warranty. All warranties, unless stated otherwise, are carry-in: products are to be sent to us at the customer's expense, and the product is to be collected at the customer's expense. Batteries and LCD / LED screens are covered for 3 months, irrespective of the products' warranty, unless stated differently. Defective pixels on screens are not covered by a warranty if it falls within an acceptable range as set by the supplier. This is an industry standard with all LCD / LED screens.
 12. Warranty periods: The official South African supplier covers the warranty on their products. In the highly unlikely event that the official South African supplier is no longer able to cover a warranty, we will do our best to find a supplier who will cover the balance of warranty. Our suppliers may change their warranty. The suppliers' warranty overrides the warranty indicated on our own invoices.
 13. On-site warranties: On-site warranties are covered by the official South African supplier.
 14. Extended warranty: Extended warranties are covered by the official South African supplier.
 15. Warranty exceptions: The warranty does not cover physical damage. Damage that is not covered by a warranty includes, but is not limited to, physical damage, burnt components, lightning and surge damage. Kindly ensure that your product is insured, that the insurance company has the correct serial number, and that the product is protected by a lightning and surge protector.
Any device or hardware that has been used for any purpose other than for which it was made for, voids the warranty. This includes, but is not limited to, using the device or hardware for "crypto currency mining". Unless the device or hardware has been specifically manufactured for that specific purpose, the device or hardware will not be replaced, repaired or refunded as the device was never intended to be used for such purpose. If the supplier agrees to a refund, then the client will be entitled to the refund offered by the supplier, which will be less than the price which was originally paid for the hardware.
 16. Dead on arrival (DOA): Several suppliers offer DOA replacements at their discretion, and reserve the right not to replace a product. DOA will not be honoured when :
 - Units that are incomplete or have missing items or components
 - Units received that are incorrectly configured by Manufacturer or a partner
 - Software issues that can be corrected by a reload
 - Outdated firmware that can be corrected with updating of firmware levels

 20. Order on request products: "Order on request products" are products that need to be ordered at suppliers on special request. "Order on request" products that are specially ordered are not returnable and are non-refundable once they have been received. Open box products are products where the box has been unsealed and opened, or where the product has been removed from the original box, and may be a demo unit or are a customer return. These products are discounted, or are bundled with other products. A reduced warranty period might apply to the open box product.
 22. Courier and delivery charges: Courier and delivery charges for the transport of goods to the customer, or for the return of goods to us, becomes payable by the customer. If you have not received confirmation from us shortly after sending your order you should contact us immediately. Please do not re-submit your order as this may lead to a duplicate transactions. Confirmation does not mean that a transaction has been concluded it merely serves to confirm that your order has been received by us. A transaction is only concluded once we have shipped the goods to your specified address on receipt of payment. To protect you from possible fraud, we may need to verify your identity and to conduct credit checks.
24. Trial - No Goods are sold on a trial basis.
 25. Cash refunds - We do not issue cash refunds under certain circumstances.

 27. Errors in advertised prices (E&OE): Should an inadvertent and obvious error occur in an advertised price, then the price is invalid and any quote or invoice based on the incorrect price will be null and void in accordance to Section 23 of the Consumer Protection Act.
 28. Credit and returns - Credit notes will be considered for returned goods, if the goods have been received by us within 7 (seven) calendar days of invoice. All items returned attract a minimum of 15% re-stocking fee, or a percentage equivalent to that charged by our suppliers if their charge is higher than 15%. All goods returned are to be correctly packaged. Specifically, goods must be returned in the packaging in which they were received, with all outer boxes and inner packaging intact (sealed and re-saleable). Items that are not correctly packaged will attract a minimum 20% handling charge.
We may refuse to give a refund on products that have been opened, used, installed, damaged or that are not correctly packaged. Software cannot be returned. Items that have been physically opened will not be able to be refunded, this includes laptops that have been opened to upgrade components.
If the customer has used the product, installed or activated any software on the product, we reserve the right to charge rent for its use.
No credits will be issued after 7 (seven) days.
 29. Returns are accepted and full refunds are offered for products that are incorrectly displayed / described on our website, on condition that the product is returned immediately, undamaged and in its original packaging. Although every effort has been made to ensure accuracy, our suppliers or manufacturers do, on rare occasions, change specifications without notice, and this affects the accuracy of the data on our site.

Please help us by ensuring that we have your correct (and complete) address. Once goods have been signed for at the delivery address, the order will be considered delivered. Please note that deliveries to plots, farms and construction sites are not possible. If delivery is to be made inside a security estate, or at a company, please inform your receptionists and/or security about the delivery. Also note that courier companies do not always call before delivering.
 34. Delivery charges paid by the customer on delivery - If the words "delivery" appears on your quote, but a delivery charge is omitted, or is given as 0 (Zero), then this means that the customer requires delivery but that the customer is directly responsible for the delivery charges directly with the courier company. If a product has been returned, depending on the condition of the returned products and subject to our other terms, we reserve the right to reject the return.

However, this may be as little as 48 hours, or may take longer than 3 weeks when the supplier experiences stock shortages or unforeseen delays. We will do our best to speed the process up as much as possible.
